

Padel Coaching Qualifications Pathway by HELLOPADEL[®] A C A D E M Y

Padel coaching is an interesting and rewarding career as you inspire people to start playing the game and empower them to unlock their potential. Every day is a new challenge, from young children picking up a padel bat for the first time through to players chasing WPT success.

If you would like to take those first steps on the coaching journey, this pathway can guide you through your coaching career, to become a padel leader and help developing players up to an elite standard.

A maximum of 15 coaches per course, on each level

The “Silver Training Course for Padel Coaches” is aimed at those candidates who want to further improve their coaching skills, after obtaining a Bronze (Level 1) qualification. You will be trained to work with beginner, intermediate and advanced level players.

By the end of this course, the candidate will be able to:

- * Coach beginner, intermediate and advanced level players, either in groups or individually.
- * Coach kids according to age and playing level.
- * Plan and deliver a structured lesson using the Hello Padel Academy method.
- * Assess players’ skills to give effective and constructive feedback for technical and tactical improvement.
- * Build exercise plans to refine tactics, shots and overall performance tailored to the players’ needs.
- * Foster critical thinking in players to analyse game situations, playing style, tactical strategies, decision making.
- * Create social media and digital marketing strategies to promote your activity/business.
- * The basics to create a school for kids divided by age and level.

Course Assessment:

- Practical assessments on court.
- Candidates must attend all course sessions, and pass all instances of assessment to be successful.
- Theoretical and practical exams: Participants must score 75% or more in the exam, as well as submit a video to the head coach demonstrating technical and tactical skills to be eligible to pass the course.
- All coaches will be continuously assessed on technical skills during the three-day course, which will add up to the final result.

Failing the exam: The candidate will be eligible for a second attempt/resit (free of charge) to pass the practical and theoretical components. This will be online, and with the head coach.

Course Pre-requisites:

- Hold the HPA "Bronze Training Course for Padel Coaches" qualification, or if you already hold a Level 1 course (or similar) with another qualified training entity, you can apply for exemption.
- To be able to take this course, the applicant must submit a video teaching technical and tactical skills required for the level. In case the applicant is not successful, he/she will be provided with constructive feedback in order to improve, elevate and correct what is required to be able to participate.

Exemptions

We value and celebrate participants' experience and background, however we do believe in our method.

Therefore, to be part of HPA Academy coaches, all participants should take the Silver course and sit for its exams (refer to Theoretical and Practical exams) to fulfil our method's requirements and pass the exams.

Cost

The cost of the "Silver Training Course for Padel Coaches" will vary depending on the provider (Country and club offering the course).
